Of course, the electric ballet is not neglected. It's of the firefly designation here, comes in the first act and is a lightning wonder.

For solo dancers to the ballet are Fanchonette and the eccentric sisters Mahr, all agile sind worth while.

Mr. Harrison isn't guilty of the whole libretto. George V. Hobart conspired with him. But it doesn't matter. Mr. De Koven's name is appended to two ballet numbers, while Mr. A. During the label were a second the agreement of Walters' Union No. 2 of Brooklyn for one year. Urged by this action, the borough has appointed a committee to assist in organizing other parks.

The Central Federated Union is gradually assuming to be the leading organization of workmen of this city. Not a meeting is ever held but some new organization's delegates are seated. The body has issued several invitations to organized bodies to join them and in many cases they have been accepted. The Architectural Iron Workers' Union is now considering the advisability of becoming affiliated with the federated body and at their next meeting will vote on the proposition. There are many of these organizations now, but the union wants more and has accordingly appointed Delegates J. Cullen, John L. Moore, C. F. Reichers and James Flaherty a committee to organize new clubs in the assembly and ward districts of that borough.

The broom-makers of Brooklyn are likely to be organized very shortly, for the Central Labor Union of that borough has requested the Organization Committee to look to the work. This was done at the request of the International Broom-Makers' Union.

At the last meeting of D. A. 220 of the K. of L. resolutions were adopted condemning the proposed legislation at Albany to tax mortgages. Assemblyman Farrell's Street Railway Transfer bill was indorsed and a complaint was made by the delegate from the Street Sweepers' L. A. 2011, that politicians were interfering with the efforts of the sweepers to organize. The Secretary of the Assembly was instructed to write to Mayor Van Wyck and inform him that the body is opposed to any return to the contract system.

The Cigarmakers' Label Committee

The Cigarmakers' Label Committee of Brooklyn have withdrawn the union label from two shops in that borough, because of the refusal of the employer to pay union wages. The committee lost nothing by this action, for two other applicants were granted the label. During the past week 199,000 labels were issued.
